We asked Codestone Group what they thought of the experience?

Before we engaged with QMS the whole topic of GDPR was confusing and very ominous. We didn't fully understand how this would affect our Marketing activities and how we interacted with our customers and their data.

Why did you choose QMS?

QMS had successfully taken us through our ISO 9001 and 27001 qualifications and as such seemed the perfect choice to also help us navigate through this new legislation and become GDPR compliant.

How easy did you find the GDPR Assessment to complete?

The process was clear from the start and, although I'm not going to say the subject matter is easy, the consultant made it relevant to us and allowed us to relate it to our specific requirements and usages. It highlighted what the changes in the law would require of us and gave us easy steps to make those changes and to ensure that those changes will be trained into our staff and will become an ingrained part of our business practises.
